ABOUT US

VAULT3D was created to enhance the nft purchasing experience and offer exclusive art pieces from high end profile artist on the blockchain. Simplifying the NFT space by adding elegance and sophistication by using specialized coding, and state of the art blockchain technologies to improve user experience. This project aims to solve the distortion of art collecting that is happening on other platforms. By focusing on exclusivity driven by the native token $VAULT, designed specifically for the nft marketplace.

OUR MISSION

We aiming to create a premium marketplace where serious investors can easily navigate and invest into digital art. Art that has to be verified and carefully considered before being allowed on VAULT3D. Most other NFT marketplaces are heavily saturated with low quality art and often do not require many checks before an individual can sell items. We aren't positioning ourselves as comparable or even competitive in respect to those marketplaces, as we want to position ourselves as an exclusive marketplace.

OUR VISION

We want VAULT3D to be the place where every art collector can easily manage through the exclusive art collection that our platform offers. We want to create an ecosystem where people can use our native $VAULT and enjoy the many benefits that our marketplace offers them.

OUR PRODUCT VISUAL SIDE

We are launching our NFT Marketplace on the BSC network, with the native $VAULT token. Which means our transaction costs are much lower than compared to the ETH network. We are aiming to intergrade a tier system into the platform, which people must purchase to be able to get exclusive access to premium art and more.

We also will build a state-of-the-art “Pawn Shop” mode: artists will have their art appraised by our team of specialists (this will eventually be automated), then the art will be paid for their pawn option which will incur interest. If the pawn defaults, the art will be kept and sold on the marketplace. All 80 to 90% of the profit generated by the pawn shop will be spent in buying back the native $TOPIA tokens. All tokens generated by the profit in the marketplace will be manually burned.

Last, we offer a brand new “Art Calendar” option: The feature will allow artist to upload the most up to date information on their brand and strategy, in order to self-feature pivotal drop dates and exclusive information.

TECHNICAL SIDE

The marketing wallet is rerouting the 7% marketing tax into BNB instead of native $VAULT tokens before it hits the marketing wallet. This basically means that the marketing wallet is already funded without having to sell any native tokens. 40% of the marketing wallet will always be reserved for marketing.

We're using dedicated full nodes that are deployed and running on a customdesigned distributed infrastructure, which helps ensure peak performance and uptime while confirming transactions.

We're also leveraging the power of multiple AWS instances that all spin up together and phase in / phase out as required to sustain a stable, expandable, efficient, and fast user experience on the website itself. This will be supplemented with high-speed media storage streamlined access to assets using multiple content distribution networks CDNS around the world.
